Chapter 1 by Wolfe

Nobody is born cute, they're simply not. Every mother sees their child as a beautiful angel. This, is a very good thing for the baby, because not only are they loud, obnoxious, and demanding, but they're lucky this is the case; nobody else can really stand them until they're about 2.

But every for every two negatives, there's usually a positive: these infants will grow and become the world's future. Of course, nobody really knows what the future holds in store... And yet, what if, in these delicate times, the young infants were not what they seemed?

Studies, close examinations, even tests have been conducted, looking for ways to see the future, but if time is infinite, then one life and existence would mean nothing, so why would anyone be able to foretell the future? Infants though are still growing and developing, but during the infant stage, they're closest to the origin of life itself; the Aetherius Realm.

Their connection to this vast power grants them immeasurable knowledge, forcing them into a state of confusion and infancy as we know it. Soon though, we will be able to predict the future, countering any form of attack or disaster that will strike the Earth.

Soon, we shall not only be able to observe this power, but harness it. That is my life goal, to truly see the realm of the infinite, to meet the gods. I am the one who will awaken the human race in order to finally become what we have dreamed.... Gods.
